Mills Submits No Suggestion As To Possible Revenue From Beer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A further indication that the Hoover administration is opposed to enactment of a beer bill was seen today as the House Ways and Means Committee opened hearings on the legislation.

Chairman Collier announced that Secretary of the Treasury Mills had declined an invitation to make any recommendations on a beer-for-revenue measure. Collier said he had been informed the treasury would supply any information requested, but that it had nothing to offer on its own account.

"We invited Mr. Mills and the treasury offered us any information but had no recommendations to make and so we will not call upon the treasury officials," said Collier.

Limitations Tentative

Collier announced the provisions of his bill limiting alcoholic content of beer to 2.75 per cent by weight and a tax of $5 a barrel nearly would serve as a basis for the hearings.

"Both of these are tentative," he said.

In reply to a question of Rep. Treadway (R) of Massachusetts, Collier announced that the beer bill

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Banks and security companies were carefully watched today for the possible appearance of bonds and stocks included in the loot seized by five kerchief-masked bandits who yesterday overpowered and robbed a special post office messenger and his guard.

Value of the 163 pieces of registered mail seized by the robbers was set at between $400,000 and $500,000 by E. E. Brown, vice president of the First National and the First Union Trust and Savings banks to whom the mail was being delivered. After a telegraph checkup, Brown said the value of the loot does not exceed $500,000.

Congress Given District Pleas

Petitions Against Repeal Or Modification Are Sent
From This District

ALL RESOLUTIONS BEFORE COMMITTEE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent,
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.—On the opening day of Congress shortly before he voted with the group successfully opposing Speaker Garner's repeal resolution, Representative J. Howard Swick gave to the House resolutions from a number of church groups of his district opposing either repeal or modification.

One of these petitions came from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Lawrence County, signed by Margaret S. Walker, president. Another was signed by the First Baptist church and Sunday school of New Castle. Others came from the Woman's Christian Temperance Unions of Harlanburg and of Jacksonville, in Butler County.

Similar petitions were given the House by Congressman Swick from: Woman's Christian Temperance Unions of Beaver and of Harrisville; College Hill United Presbyterian church of Beaver Falls; Young People's Christian Union of College Hill United Presbyterian church; College Hill Reformed Presbyterian church of Beaver Falls; Geneva congregation of Reformed Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls; College Hill Methodist Episcopal church of Beaver Falls and the St. Paul's Lutheran Aid Society of Beaver Falls. All of the petitions were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

suggested for the city initiated at the special session. One would be a constitutional amendment to permit the consolidation of the five counties comprising greater New York into one.

By adopting such an amendment at the special session it could be repassed at the regular session, which will convene next month, and then submitted to the voters next fall, thereby saving two years.

Tammay Hall is strongly opposed to paving the way for any structural changes in the city government at the special session, but that will not influence Mr. Roosevelt's decision, it was made plain by his advisers.

Bruce Barton says now is the time to invest in boys and girls, the one stock that is bound to go up. And, the farther up this stock goes, the more it costs. We're speaking from experience now.

wells are fairly low. If December is anything like last year, they should fill up again, however, as there was a week of continuous rain from December 9 to 16, when close to three inches of rain fell.

It is welcome news that a New Castle contractor has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new P. & L. E. depot. Aside from assuring the use of local labor, it will mean that the money expended by the railroad company will remain in New Castle.

The Young Women's Christian association of New Castle has been quietly serving the women and girls of this community for many years. It has been doing splendid work, providing recreation for girls in all walks of life, helping find employment for those out of work, conducting free classes in useful arts, and scores of other services. Now for the first time it is appealing to the people of the community for funds with which to carry on. Loss of this organization would be a calamity to the community.

Winter doesn't officially make its entrance until Thursday, December 22. That is also the shortest day of the year.

LAW GIVES BOOST TO SALARY OF NEXT DISTRICT ATTORNEY

county between $9,000 and 150,000 SHALL have the power to appoint two assistants at the salaries quoted above. This does not mean that he must, but it does mean that the power of appointment lies entirely with him. A county of the sixth class under $9,000 can have an assistant district attorney only when the court sanctions it. Up until 1930, Lawrence County's official population was determined by the census of 1920 and was less than 90,000.

The practice in Lawrence County has been for the district attorney to appoint an assistant who served only during the trial of criminal cases. This has expedited the clearing of the criminal list.

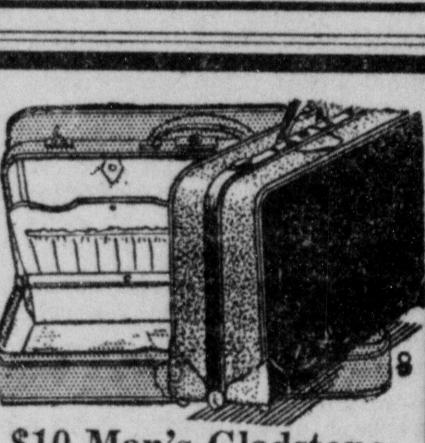

Although the primary of 1932 is nearly nine months away, there are candidates being projected for District Attorney. The fact that the salary will be $5,000 per year will probably mean that a number of attorneys will aspire to the office.

It is sometimes possible for parents to keep their children in school when the youngsters help with the "home work." This is especially true in the rural districts.

Bronchial Asthma Cure Is Believed Found By Doctor

Dr. William Anderson Of Pittsburgh Has Experimented Successfully

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—Seven years of experimental work today were believed to have resulted in the discovery of a cure for bronchial asthma, the cure and cause of which have been age-old mysteries to medical science.

The new treatment has been developed by Dr. William Anderson of the West Penn hospital here. It involves impregnating the lungs with oil medicated with iodine, chlorine and other chemicals.

Although 75 persons have finished the course of treatments without further attacks of asthma, Dr. Anderson today declined to positively characterize his formula as a "cure."

"One swallow doesn't make a summer," he observed, "A few cures include only that we are on the right track."

Dr. Anderson's treatment is directly through the throat, an innovation to medical science. Previously, it was held such treatments would be harmful.

With the aid of a local anesthetic, the medicine is injected into the windpipe. The oil penetrates to remove parts of the lungs and is absorbed by the system. The iodine and other chemicals attack the spots of infection.

BUDGET MESSAGE URGES HUGE CUTS IN U. S. EXPENSES

bring in another $137,000,000—amounting to almost a half billion in new revenue.

This new revenue, with the $580, 000,000 estimated reduction in expenditures, would be calculated to bring the treasury somewhere near out of the yawning chasm in which it has been floundering since the depression.

$580,000,000 Reduction

Mr. Hoover proposed to attain this $580,000,000 reduction in expenditures in various ways:

Reducing veterans' allowances to $127,000,000.

Authorizing no new federal construction at this time.

Discontinuing federal road aid to the states.

Reducing all government sal- aries (civilian) by 11 per cent, above the $1,000 class.

Continuing the administrative economy measures adopted last session.

Drastic retrenchment in all departmental and bureau ex- penditures.

Significantly, Mr. Hoover's calculations took no account of any possible revenue from legalized beer.

Neither in his annual message yesterday, nor in his budget message today, did the President mention prohibition or beer, and the twin omissions lent some credence to the theory that he would veto a beer bill.

If the lame-duck session passes it, in any event, beer revenue did not enter the President's picture of federal finances.

At the same time he recommended appropriating $9,599,948 for enforcing prohibition during the next fiscal year, exclusive of coast guard enforcement activities. The coast guard has $26,664,654 in the budget, at least part of which is devoted to the federal treasury.

Warms Congress

The President warned Congress of financial disaster unless prompt action is taken to bring the government's income up to somewhere near its outgo. Even with the new revenue and the drastic retrenchment, he said, the public debt will be greatly increased this year.

"Such a situation cannot be continued without disaster to federal finances," he said. "The recommendations herein presented to Congress for further drastic reductions in expenditures and increased revenues will only serve to prevent a further increase in the public debt in the fiscal year 1934 if Congress will refrain from placing additional burdens upon the federal treasury."

Limit Expenditures

"I cannot too strongly urge that every effort be made to limit expenditures and avoid additional obligations, not only in the interest of the already heavily burdened taxpayer, but in the interest of the very integrity of the finances of the federal government."

Administrative economies recommended to be continued would include: furlough and pay reductions, suspension of automatic promotion in federal service; reductions in retired pay, travel allowance, overtime pay, shifting of employees, reduction in vocational education appropriations and reduction of fees for jurors and witnesses, etc.

QUOTARIANS HAVE
CHARITY BRIDGE EVENT

The Quota club members entertained at a charity bridge in the ballroom of The Castleton Tuesday evening as a holiday feature on their social calendar. Twenty tables were in play at 8:30 and at the close of the contests the one holding high honors at each table was awarded a beautiful little Jerusalem cherry tree.

At 11 o'clock the guests were served a dainty repast and the appointments were carried out in their club colors, blue and silver.

The committee in charge included Miss Marguerite Cordes, chairman; Mrs. Clair Brown, Mrs. Ora Snyder, Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal and Miss Elizabeth Rose.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. Maude Slater, of Euclid avenue was delightfully entertained Monday evening when a group of relatives and friends gathered in her home to help celebrate her birthday anniversary.

Games and Hawaiian music furnished by Bill Madison, Ed. Palmer, Ralph Woodruff and Lewis Hoover were features.

Those sharing the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Madison, Mr. and Mrs. James Madison, Ethel Madison, Dorothy, LeRoy and Alfred Madison, Mrs. Zelma Kenehan, Betty Kenehan, William Kenehan, Alva Slater, Brewster Slater, Arvine Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Slater, Frederick Slater, Kenneth Slater, Willis Slater, and the honored guest.

Lunch was served at the appointed hour by Mrs. Carl Madison, Mr. Lyle Slater, Mrs. Zelma Kenehan and Ethel Madison.

Shaftie-Moore

Coming as a surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Sophie Shaftie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Shaftie, of East Washington street, to Aaron Moore, son of Mrs. Hazelton Moore, of 204 Winter avenue, on November 28.

The young couple was united in marriage by Rev. Samuel Matland, pastor of the Greenwood M. E. church, and was unattended.

Mr. Moore is associated with the Moore service station on East Washington street.

Dispensing with a wedding trip for the present, Mr. and Mrs. Moore are living at 204 Winter avenue.

Name Officers.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the G. A. R. Ladies met in the city building for business and an election of officers featured the afternoon.

The president chosen for the ensuing year is Mrs. Florence Gillespie; Mrs. Rose Tripp, senior vice; Mrs. Alice Jackson, junior vice; Mrs. Blanche Boston, treasurer; Mrs. Carrie Heitzman, secretary; Mrs. Pearl Cook, chaplain; Mrs. Rilla Risher, patriotic instructor; conductors, Mrs. Margaret Hammond and Mrs. Tillie Hartman; guard, Mrs. Mary Loy; assistant, Mrs. Agnes Miller, and pianiste, Mrs. Zella George.

CANTER BRIDGE GIRLS
GUESTS AT CASTLETON

Miss Mae Cummings, East Washington street, pleasantly entertained her associates of the Canter Bridge club Tuesday evening at The Castleton sharing with the Quota club of which she is a member, their charity party.

The cards contests occupied the greater part of the evening and at the conclusion of play Mrs. C. E. Kennedy and Miss Mary Whalen were awarded the prizes for high honors. A dainty repast was served, bringing this most enjoyable affair to a close.

Plans were made for their Christmas party with Miss Jean Glenn as hostess on Wednesday, December 21, when the exchange of gifts will take place.

S. OF D. GIRLS
CHRISTMAS PARTY

Long tables festively decorated in the Christmas colors greeted the members of the S. of D. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church and their guests Tuesday evening, when they assembled in the church dining room for the annual Christmas party. Places were arranged for forty.

The committee arranging the dinner were Mrs. Oliver McNeese, Mrs. Hazel Burris and Mrs. Everett Anderson.

When the dinner was over a most pleasing entertainment was presented in the form of a playlet, "How the Story Grew," directed by Mrs. Hazel Conway and Mrs. John Gaston. Those taking part were Mrs. Everett Anderson, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. William Joyce, Mrs. J. Seeger, Mrs. Herman Becker, Mrs. Oliver McNeese and Mrs. Walter Lieser.

The gift exchange featured the after hours of the program and Mrs. Vina Wilson made the distribution.

A. N. CLUB MEMBERS
PLAN HOLIDAY PARTY

The A. N. Club, recently organized met for a social time Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Esther Reynolds, Superior street, with Mrs. Ora Pearce and Miss Martha Watson as special guests.

The hours were devoted to a contest in cards, trophies for honors being captured by Mrs. Sylvia Green and Miss Watson.

After partaking of a tasty lunch served by the hostess, they adjourned and in two weeks Miss Agnes I. Barnes, of 435 Park avenue will entertain as hostess Thursday, December 22.

Service Star Legion.

Mrs. Mary Phillips of Reynolds street was hostess to the members of the Service Star Legion in her home Tuesday evening and after the ceremonial opening an election of officers was held.

Mrs. Emma Claple will serve as president the coming year, Mrs. Lucy Wooley vice president, Mrs. Alice Claple secretary, Mrs. Anna Sturdy treasurer, Mrs. Emma Campbell chaplain and Mrs. Belle Whitman historian.

Elks Club Party, Elks Club rooms.

Five-W Club.

Members of the Five-W Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. Clyde Burkholder on Whippo street last evening. The evening was spent at bridge, high score honors going to Miss Prudence Sankey. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Vance Burkholder and Mrs. John U. Knox. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Miss Harriett Truby of Winter avenue as hostess.

An informal social period followed.

T. N. T. Holiday Gathering.

The T. N. T. Club members were entertained in a delightful manner at the home of Mrs. Charles Freeman, 315 Fairmont avenue Tuesday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. James Cypher as hostess. This event was in the form of a Christmas party and the feature was a tureen dinner served at noon. The table was prettily appointed, and at the close of serving, tables of 500 were in play.

After the program refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides, Mrs. Josephine McConathy, Mrs. Sarah Cobau and Mrs. Gula Keagy.

A. B. D. Girls.

Miss Della Glenn of the Associated Charities gave a most interesting talk on the various phases of her work Tuesday evening before the members of the A. B. D. Girls when they were entertained in the home of Mrs. L. Thayer, East Lincoln avenue.

After the program refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides, Mrs. Josephine McConathy, Mrs. Sarah Cobau and Mrs. Gula Keagy.

N. B. Club Meeting.

The N. B. Club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. Grace Fisher on Chestnut street Monday evening. Cards filled in the hours, prizes being won by Mrs. Bernice Hamill, Mrs. Agnes Selleck and Mrs. Carolyn Donnelly.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Georgianna Campbell at the close of the evening.

In two weeks, Mrs. Hamill of Huay street will entertain at their Christmas party.

American Citizenship.

The American Citizenship Department of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. D. Pearson, 421 Moody avenue. City Government was the subject discussed that was most interesting.

On January 3 the members will meet again at the same place.

Tri-Quad Club Date Set.

The Tri-Quad Club members will meet on December 21 at the home of Miss Geraldine McClelland on Croton avenue.

BLANCHE BLAHA MR. AND MRS. LIESER

Because Mrs. Wendell Lieser, 25 of Omaha, Neb., didn't want to face a cold winter alone when she learned her 26-year-old husband had fallen in love with a girl he had met "waiting for a street car," she invited the "other woman," 19-year-old Blanche Blaha, left, to move in with them. Police found, when Blanche's parents became alarmed over her whereabouts, that she had been living with the Liesers for three months.

Lieser treated both women alike, giving each the same amount of money every week.

The two women shared his love equally and harmoniously, doing the housework and preparing the meals together.

After the cold weather is gone, Mrs. Lieser says she is willing to grant her husband a divorce so he can marry Blanche. Authorities say this is the story as related to them by the trio.

A HARD JOB AHEAD OF ROOSEVELT

(From Philadelphia Inquirer)

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT, writing in the Cosmopolitan Magazine, does not lack faith in his leadership. Says he:

"Your new national leadership is going to restore the confidence that the majority of men and women in this country rightfully repose in their own integrity and ability. It is going to bring about governmental action to mesh more with the rights and the essential needs of the individual man and woman. It is going to bring about a greater personal security."

"These are not merely hopes. These are the battle-orders imposed upon myself and my party. I began and ended the Presidential campaign along these definite lines. I am going to begin your new national administration upon them."

The campaign is over. Many promises are made in the heat of strife that appear exaggerated. Once elected, a candidate has no further need for pledges. There comes then a period for serious thought. But Mr. Roosevelt apparently is still of the opinion that the Democratic platform can be carried out in full. The war debt problem that is demanding and receiving the close attention of all economists does not seem to bother him—let. Nevertheless it is one that he can not escape. For the present he is of the opinion that—

"Every major problem before us today is involved with the tariff. The building of a higher tariff fence about ourselves has caused foreign retaliatory tariffs and prevented even the simple exchange and barter of goods internationally. By reciprocal agreements with other nations, we shall have opportunity given to our tariff fence to permit the resumption of international trade."

This is a repetition of the campaign argument. But things are changing mightily. When England went off the gold standard an upheaval began whose end can not be foreseen. British sterling took a sudden drop. Having done so, it remained fairly stationary for a time; but of late, propelled downward by the debt controversy, it has reached dangerous depths. Depreciated currencies abound not only in England but in various other countries. Depreciated currencies mean lower costs of production in terms of gold—in terms of the dollar of the United States. We are facing a situation where our tariff no longer presents a wall—if it ever did—to importations. They are coming in in quantities.

Does anyone doubt it? Then let him take a look at the retail counters in any city in the land. He will find there countless articles that are sold far below the cost of manufacture by American workmen.

The Saturday Evening Post in its edition of December 2 gives a long but only a partial list of goods that are menacing American industry. An example or two: England sends us men's leather gloves laid down here for $24.89 a dozen pairs that cost us $26 merely to make, and knives and forks at $4.81 a set of six that cost our manufacturers $7.42 merely to produce. Japan lands, all duties paid, rubber shoes at 34 cents that can not be made here for less than 95 cents. Czechoslovakia lands a brand at $1.16 a pair, as compared with a productive cost here of $1.48. A Pennsylvania ragrug factory closes down because, with a rug costing 29 cents, it can not compete with a Japanese article at 6 cents. When a factory can not turn out a 9 by 12 grass rug for less than $8.88, how can it expect to prosper when a similar Japanese rug comes in at 92 cents? The country is flooded with electric light bulbs and flashlights at prices which are ruinous. Even steel has been imported. The range of cheap goods produced by cheap labor, paid in depreciated currency, is wide. We are not attempting to do more than call attention to a few of them.

We will have the opportunity to "lower our tariff fence," says President-elect Roosevelt. In what respect? For depreciated currencies have already lowered that fence to such an extent that revision of various schedules upward instead of downward is becoming a positive necessity if American industry and American labor are to be given a fighting chance. The Tariff Commission is capable of meeting the situation—if the incoming Democratic administration does not interfere and adopt a new policy.

TO SEE WHAT MAKES HIM BAD

In the Neurological Institute of Columbia University progresses an undertaking that may yield an interesting body of information if not immediate and direct results of so-called practical importance. A body of 59 scientific men have set themselves the task of determining the causes that perpetuate in society a criminal class.

It is a miraculous mixture that compounds the making of the ordinary man. He is supposed in some subtle, mysterious way to carry a certain residuum from all the processes and accumulations of his ancestry. And then his age and time shape him and make their contribution. He gets education and nourishment and discipline according to his surroundings and the setting into which his lot casts him; and, according to the time-honored theory, he himself is held in some degree accountable for willing the uses that he makes of the materials the world hands him.

But sometimes out of this process of manufacture issues the abnormal man, the misfit, the defective, and anti-social, the dangerous man. What is the combination that occurs when such a product results? This is the question to be studied. It demands the cooperation of many skilled minds. The biologist, the neurologist, the anthropologist, the educator, and maybe the chemist and physical scientist all might contribute, for man is an animal, a bundle of nerves, a descendant, a pupil and, in a cruder way, a chemical compound and a mechanical device.

Such a study will not be finished in a day, but whatever results will be highly interesting.

All play and no work makes jack scarce.

The short session of congress promises to be like an automobile collision. The other fellow is always wrong.

All Of Us

HOW TO TREAT AN ENEMY

Let us admit freely that we have enemies.

We are not all of us alike. We differ in tremendous ways from other people. Some of us are gruff and tough, and some of us are delicate as camellias, that bruise so easily they cannot bear the common touch. Some of us want success and some of us want understanding of our common experience. Some of us flame into anger; some of us brood. We are different.

We are alike in superficial ways, to be sure. We have eyes, each one of us, and we see the surface of life with those eyes. We have ears and we hear the twitter of birds, the sound of voices, the rumble and clamor of traffic. We have hands that we clench into fists or soften to caresses. We have minds we use more or less exactly, we have emotions. We are all built up out of a multiplicity of cells that will live but a little while after our hearts have stopped the systole and diastole of our existence...

Yes, we are alike. But we are enormously separate, too, and there are some people with whom we can never be friends.

And some of those people who are not our friends are, in fact, our enemies. And we are theirs.

We cannot be friends. We clash. We are prejudiced. We are, in a way, like casual puppies that meet on the street and growl. Our difference is not so casual. It is fundamental, and wider than the Grand Canyon or the ocean. We cannot come together; we are farther apart than the butterfly and the saber-toothed tiger. . . . So let us freely admit that we are enemies.

What then? What if we are enemies? Shall we snarl, shall we baffle, shall we go to earth and scabble in the mud for the other's life? . . . What command is on us that because we are enemies we should tear at the other's throat in bloody violence or in some more subtle, more deadly fashion? Who gave that order?

No one that I have known, and lately I read in one of D. H. Lawrence's letters a commandment on the treatment of enemies. It comes well from that writer because his spirit was as raw as a new-made wound, and he made many enemies and recognized them when they came. He wrote to a friend:

"I hate my enemies, but I mostly forget them."

It was as if he thought to himself: This man is my enemy and we are forever apart. But why should I keep him with me always, destroying me with my own enemy? I shall forget him, push him aside and go along my own path with my own admitted friends. I hate him, but my hate shall stay behind.

There was malice and savagery in the man, but he had a weak memory. He forgot his enemies as a man forgets the sting of a bee—and that, you will fairly agree, is the better day. Is it wisdom to forget?

YOUR FACE

Why do you look so ugly and crabbed as you walk the streets or mingle with strangers?

A perpetual smile is not necessary, but off-guard moments need not proclaim you a cross old grouch.

You have serious problems as most folk do, to which you must give thought and deliberation, but it is not necessary for you to freeze into a mask.

You sometimes wonder, yourself, as you look in your mirror, where those hard lines come from that are beginning to dent your face.

Most of them are due to the line of thinking you do and the set of your face muscles which does not in the least facilitate your thought. Those twisted deep lines only proclaim you as a tense and not overly agreeable person, dissatisfied with self and certainly not satisfying to others.

Maybe you do feel ugly toward mankind and conditions in general. You are not helping to lift hard conditions when you jam down your jaws and twist your mouth and pinch your lips.

Shake out of it and get some enjoyment from life.

Who could admire, to say nothing of keeping on loving, a face that shows such ill-tempered moods and so little control of these moods.

DESTINY

None knows the purpose or the plan if it were in the power of man.

To ready his destiny aright And settle it by force, he might, O'erwhelmed by stronger ranks, despair, Bewailing burdens he must bear.

But strength and wisdom hand in hand

Not always join to take command.

Nor is it possible to guess

Precisely failure and success.

What now seems good to look upon

May spell disaster later on.

This is the task of every man;

To serve the truth as best he can;

To know life's blend of smiles and tears

And wait the judgment of the years,

And, though in darkness he may grope,

Never to part from faith or hope.

This is man's glory—he may be

Outnumbered twice, ten times, yet he,

Clinging to truth, may work and wait

And ultimately join the great

And in God's own good time may wrest

Those who pass the mental test will be instructed to undergo a physical examination.

There are no vacancies in the fire department.

The examinations were held to secure an eligibility list, the present list having become one year old. According to the rules of the board the list is invalid after one year.

Presbytery Meets In Central Church

Routine Matters Take Up The Greater Part Of Tuesday Morning And Afternoon

Rev. T. C. Henderson of the Moravia Presbyterian church, moderator of the Shenango Presbytery, presided at the regular meeting of the pastors when they assembled in Central Presbyterian church Tuesday morning and afternoon.

Rev. Harry Rhodes was the morning speaker and he told of the mission work being carried on in Korea, where he has been stationed. His evangelism is sweeping the country.

Rev. Thomas G. Berger, the new minister of the Slippery Rock church, near Ellwood, conducted the closing devotions of the morning and the meeting adjourned for lunch.

At the afternoon session routine matters occupied the greater part of the time and it was decided to hold the stated meetings for 1933 in the First Presbyterian church of New Castle.

February 14, 1933, will mark the date of the next meeting.

Let that COLD Play Only a One-Night Stand!

Drive a Cold Out of the System Overnight by Quick and Proper Treatment

Don't temporize with a cold. A cold—or gripe—can quickly turn into something else. Be quick—be zealous—in your treatment of a cold. A cold can be expelled overnight if you act promptly enough and use the right thing.

First, take a COLD remedy for a cold. A cold is a specific condition calling for a specific treatment. A cure-all is not a dependable remedy. A preparation that is good for a dozen ills and ailments can't be equally effective for a cold. Many popular remedies make the relief of a cold more difficult because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

Second, take a cold remedy administered internally. A cold is an internal infection and, as such, calls for internal treatment. Local, or outside applications, afford only temporary relief and do not reach the real seat of the trouble and do not prevent the infection from spreading within the system.

As Your Doctor Will Tell You—

Correct treatment for a cold is supplied in Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. As your doctor will tell you, no better prescription for a cold could be written. First of all, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine relieves the bowels, the first requisite

Unusual Number Of Public Meetings At County Court House

An unusually large number of public meetings are scheduled to be held at the court house this week. On Thursday afternoon there will be a meeting of the taxpayers league and another of a somewhat similar nature in the evening. On Friday evening there will be a meeting of the grange and on Saturday evening there will be a meeting of the dairymen of the county. The object of the dairymen's meeting is to form an association of all the dairymen in the county with a view to regulating prices which they will charge for their milk. Some of them already belong to a Pittsburgh organization which is controlled by the dealers, with the result that the dairymen have nothing to say in fixing prices at which they will sell their product.

Members of the Hickory Heights Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the school Thursday, December 22, instead of Thursday night of this week, as previously planned.

A Christmas program will be presented by the children of the school.

An executive meeting will be held Thursday evening in the home of Erma Perrine, South Walnut street.

EXTINGUISH TWO FIRES ON TUESDAY

At 3:15 Tuesday afternoon, firemen were called to the home of Morris Henderson of 110 Center street, by an alarm from Box 51 where a bed was found on fire. It is believed Mr. Henderson had been lying in bed smoking and that sparks from his pipe set fire to the bed. The damage was around $25.

At 7 o'clock last evening an alarm from Box 35 summoned firemen to the home of Mrs. Annie Wagner of 615 Croton avenue, where fire was found among some clothing in the attic, believed to have started from spontaneous combustion. The damage amounted to around $20.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

806 North Mercer St.

PLAN CEREMONY FOR OPENING OF BRIDGE MONDAY

This celebration parade from The Castleton to the new Willow Grove Bridge. The dedication exercises on the bridge will be attended by a crowd it is hoped for the opening of the new bridge marks the release from a tiresome detour and the establishment of a bridge that is a credit to the state and county.

The exercises on the bridge should not take any considerable length of time it is anticipated. As the ribbon is cut and the bridge is formally thrown open to the public the county commissioners will cross from the city side into the town.

The Chamber of Commerce has been asked to take part in this celebration as the South Side Board of Trade, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Quota and B. P. W. clubs. It is a civic affair, one in which every citizen should be interested and it is hoped will take part.

Hunter Reports Further Damage By Jap Soldiers

City of Hengtachotz, Important City on Chinese Railway, Is Burned

REPRISAL FOR CHINESE ATTACK

Edward Hunter, whose exclusive dispatches to International News Service confirming Chinese charges that Japanese troops had massacred 2,700 Chinese near Fushun provoked bitter denials from Japan, has returned to Manchuria and reports another severe Japanese reprisal. He had crossed the great wall to Shanhualian, China to escape the censorship with his earlier messages but the following dispatch is filed from Harbin.

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Copyright, 1932, by International News Service. Reproduction in whole or part is prohibited.

HARBIN, Manchuria, Dec. 7.—The City of Hengtachotz, an important point along the Chinese Eastern railway 170 miles northeast of Harbin, has been made victim of a serious reprisal by Japanese troops, it was learned today.

DAMAGE IS SEVERE

The punishment was meted out after Chinese rebels, from points of vantage near the Hengtachotz station, opened fire on an armored Japanese train, killing many Japanese soldiers.

The train retreated under the heavy fire, but returned a short while afterward. Japanese troops aboard it opened a surprise attack upon the foe.

Reinforcements surrounded the native city, entrapping the entire populace. Houses were put to the torch as they were in the villages surrounding Fushun, where 2,700 peasants were massacred.

Passage of trans-Siberian railway trains across Manchuria will be suspended for many months as the result of the partial destruction of the Hingnun tunnel by Chinese irregulars.

North Beaver Men Recover At Homes

Township Hunters' Car Upsets Near St. Marys; Injuries Not Serious

Two North Beaver township hunters were back at their homes today, resting from injuries suffered last Thursday in an automobile crash near St. Marys, Pa., while they were enroute to the deer hunting country.

While Roy Castro, driver of the machine, suffered only scratches, his companion, Harry Cameron, sustained a badly sprained neck. Both had narrow escapes from death.

Castro's sedan, it was learned after they returned over the weekend, was crowded from a state highway by a recklessly driven truck. The sedan veered off the concrete and rolled over three times before it halted in a field.

The Castro car was a complete wreck.

After treatment at the scene, the injured were returned to North Beaver by Mr. Kilgore, a resident of the township who had been hunting there.

GRANT CITY

Mrs. Lewis Hunt was hostess at this district W. C. T. U. on Thursday.

Charlie Cooper and Harvey Watson were New Castle callers on Saturday.

R. W. Dunlap of Washington, D. C., Will Address Extension Association

ANNUAL MEETING TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Interesting Program Has Been Mapped Out For Meeting In First
U. P. Church

Featuring the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association here on Friday in the First U. P. church, will be an address by R. W. Dunlap, assistant secretary of Agriculture of the United States, who will speak to the members of the county organization on problems affecting the farmer today.

The meeting, which is the 15th annual one of the association, should prove one of the most interesting yet held, as an attractive program has been arranged for the morning and afternoon sessions.

In addition to Mr. Dunlap, J. M. Fry, assistant director of Agricultural Extension of State College will give a brief talk during the afternoon session on extension work in Pennsylvania.

"Sanitation as a factor on growing poultry," A. F. Arnold, Little Beaver.

"Clean fruit as an aid to marketing," W. C. Hileman, Neshannock Township.

Following the luncheon which will be served by the ladies of the First U. P. church, a group of boys and girls of the 4-H Clubs in the country will put on a playlet, entitled, "A Club Roundup."

Dr. W. V. Massaro Heads Wolves Club

Is Selected To Lead Well Known Civic Organization On Tuesday Night

Annual election of officers to serve during the ensuing year was the feature of the semi-monthly dinner meeting of The Wolves club, held last night in The Castleton. The meeting was well attended and Dr. Warren V. Massaro was elected as president for the ensuing year.

Following the dinner, Dr. John P. Piroletti, the retiring president presided at the business session, during which the members selected three directors. The voting was quite spirited, and resulted in the selection of Angelo Casacchia, Dr. John Palazzo and E. H. Scarazzo.

At the close of the business session and election, the nine directors met, including the newly elected members of the board, and selected the president and other officers to serve during the coming year.

As already stated, Dr. Warren V. Massaro was selected as president, while the other officers elected were: First vice president, Dr. John Palazzo; second vice president, E. H. Scarazzo; treasurer, Peter P. Capitolo; secretary, Carm Sacco. The members of the board of directors other than those elected as officers of the club are D. D. Valensi, Attorney Joseph Letta, Jr., Dr. John P. Piroletti and Angelo Casacchia.

During the evening Fred DeCarbo was introduced as the new member and was greeted with enthusiasm, responding with few remarks. C. Ed Smith Jr. was a special guest of the evening and made a few interesting remarks when introduced. D. D. Valensi, as chairman of the entertainment committee announced that the annual New Years ball of the club would be held in the Elk's Club on Thursday, December 29.

Peter P. Capitolo, treasurer of the club, announced that there would be a surplus in the treasury of the club at the close of the year and that each member would receive a dividend of two dollars.

National Reform Association Plans Blue Law Battle

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—Press politics, pulpit—these are the three largest contributing causes of "America's" moral and political bankruptcy," according to Cameron Ralston, executive secretary of Chicago's committee of 100.

Ralston was one of the speakers at the annual mass meeting of the National Reform Association which was ended here today. The association went on record in a business session protesting efforts of congress to repeal prohibition and pledging the association to fight to save Pennsylvania's "blue laws."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Sam Woods Goes Through Panama

Local Youth With Naval Den- tal Corps Is Now On Pacific Ocean

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woods, of 111 East Clayton street, have received the following word from their son, Sam, a member of the U. S. Navy dental corps, who is making an ocean voyage aboard the U. S. S. Nitro.

"Having fine time. Came through the Panama canal today. Very hot here. Sam."

The message was mailed Thanksgiving Day.

The ship left New York some time ago for the Pacific ocean via the Panama canal. It will continue on to the state of Washington where a short stay will be made before setting to sea again for Honolulu.

One week from tonight the local team will meet the Hollanders at Beaver Falls. Hollanders are listed second in the league standing.

CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY EVENING

B. W. R. club members enjoyed an evening together Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Baltes, West North street. Mrs. Olida Collingwood was associate hostess.

Games and contests proved unusually enjoyable. The club prize went to Gladys Taylor. A guessing contest was won by Mrs. Mary Metzler. Mrs. W. G. Sapper won the "Pat and Mike" guessing contest.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Rose Doone, Mrs. Cora Fisher and Mrs. Jane Campbell was appointed to make arrangements for the club dinner which is to take place in January.

L. S. C. BOOK CLUB NOTES

Members of the L. S. C. Book club will entertain at their Christmas dinner party on Friday evening of this week instead of the following Friday as planned. Mrs. Henry Leichty of Clayton street will be hostess.

"PAL" HAPPY NOW

"Pal" will eat again, now that his master, Albert Anderson is back. Their reunion was a happy event Monday night, when young Anderson arrived home from a five day deer hunting trip. "Pal" had been left at home and the absence seemed to him interminable.

For the first time since Anderson left, Pal has taken a bite to eat. His tails wag freely and he is his old self again.

BEREAN CLASS MEETS

With Mrs. H. R. Unangst, Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh and Mrs. Charles Hammond as associate hostesses, the Berean Bible class of the Madison avenue Christian church was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of the former on West Madison avenue.

Selection of officers was conducted and resulted as follows: teacher, Mrs. W. W. Sniff; first assistant, Mrs. Carl Houk; second assistant, Mrs. R. A. Franklin; president, Mrs. C. J. Bernhart; vice president, Mrs. J. W. Jones; secretary, Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. McHattie.

The meeting was a very good one.

The women brought in their quilt patches and they were assembled.

TEAM STANDS HIGH

Latest bulletin from the Lawrence-Beaver tenpin league shows the Liberty team in first place. The Liberty bowlers have the highest total for one match of any other team in the league—1945. They have won 24 games and lost only 9. The average is listed as 89.6.

Tonight they are meeting the Shelby social club at the local alleys. At the same time the Hollander's team is meeting the Circle bowlers at Ellwood.

One week from tonight the local team will meet the Hollanders at Beaver Falls. Hollanders are listed second in the league standing.

LEMON ON PLANT

Lemon plants are not unusual for indoor growing in this part of the country. They seem to get along alright. But not all of them bear fruit. In fact very few do.

G. D. Rainey, of Darlington avenue, has a lemon plant in his barber shop and on it is growing a healthy, well nourished full sized lemon. It isn't pined on nor is it tied. It has grown there and it has made a mighty good job if it.

RETURN FROM HUNT

Walter Stone and Albert Anderson have returned to this city after a several days' hunt for deer in the vicinity of Benetts. They expect to return to that vicinity for a few more days' hunt before the season closes.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

A delicious dinner, a merry crowd, exchange of small gifts, and the sum total of all was a general good time for every member of the Look-Out class, last evening. It was their annual Christmas party and was very delightful. The local Methodist church basement was the party setting.

At tables prettily decorated with small Christmas trees and candles the twenty guests were served dinner at six o'clock. Elva Godwin's section was in charge. A regular meeting of the class was conducted afterward.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mabel Stump, West Cherry street.

G. I. A. ELECTION

Members of the Grand International Auxiliary are reminded of tomorrow's important meeting in the City hall when new officers will be chosen. The meeting takes up promptly at 2 o'clock.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. J. E. Dickson, of West Clayton street spent Tuesday in Youngstown, Ohio.

Paul Klingensmith, of North Cedar street, has returned home after a visit in Painesville and Cleveland.

Mrs. Florence Frost, of Newell avenue, who has been quite ill for some time, is reported not improving any.

Superintendent E. M. McBride, of the Mahoningtown postoffice, was confined to his home by illness on Tuesday.

It's Time to Eat at the Zoo

Menu Ranges From Bread and Milk to Bales of Hay

BOBBY, the orang-utan, appeared to be insulted. He sulked in his cage and whistled to indicate that his feelings had been hurt. Max, the keeper, had merely meant to be playful when, at feeding time, he had tempted Bobby with a luscious banana and then had jerked it away just as Bobby reached for it, much to the amusement of the onlookers. So Bobby crawled off into a corner and sat there, gloomily eyeing Max until the keeper, who loves the orang-utan more than he does most people, relented and not only gave him a banana, but added to it an entire plateful of fruit and vegetables. If orang-utans smile, Bobby smiled and all was well in the big cage, which Bobby calls his home.

"Some Boy."

"Some boy, Bobby," said Max. "He knows I was only kiddin' him."

It is meal time in the monkey house at the Zoo, only the superintendent doesn't call it a monkey house. It's the primates' house. The hour is 3 o'clock in the afternoon and, as shall be learned as this story progresses, that means 3 o'clock on the dot. Just as meal time means 3 o'clock in the morning for the lions and 4 o'clock in the afternoon for the bears.

The magnificent home for the monkeys is a riot of noise. Bobby jumps ecstatically in his cage. Mike, Henry and Duffy, the vaudeville chimpanzees, frolic in play and peer through the bars at the door through which Max is to come with their food. Philbrock, rather gloomy in isolation, shows signs of animation and licks his chops in anticipation of the three-course meal he is certain to receive. The lemurs and the black spider monkeys, the marmosets and the baboons join in the chorus which will not down until plate of food have been shoved into their cages. A bedlam of monkey screechings and chattering until the dinner bell rings.

Big Attraction.

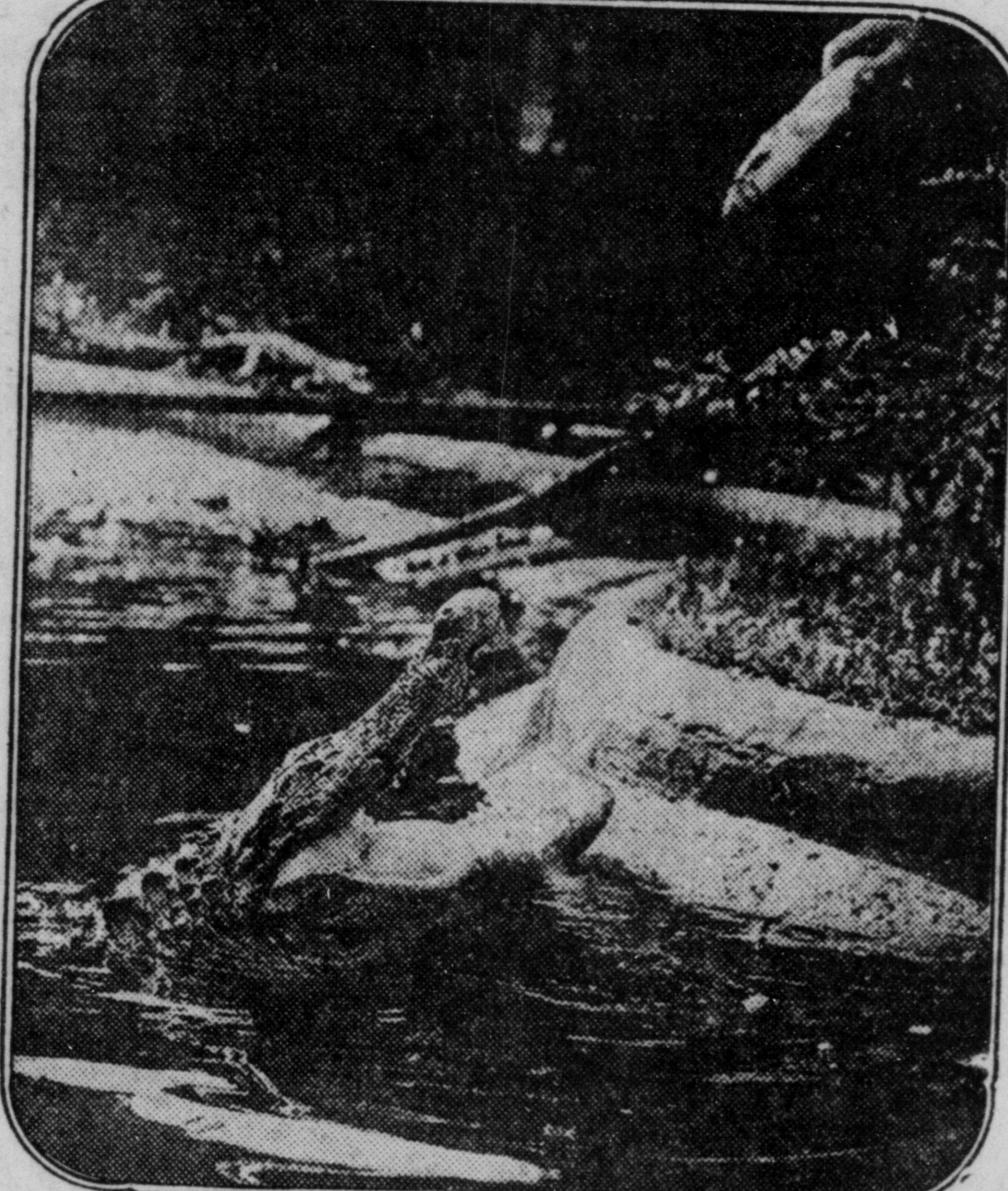

Signboards placed in conspicuous spots announce the schedule of feeding and week days and Sundays, weather permitting, there is always a crowd that moves from cage to cage as the feeding progresses; laughs with the monkeys, enjoys the sea lions jumping for their fish, smiles when the bears rear on hind legs and with forepaws and open mouths supplicate the keeper to toss them a morsel. Feeding the animals has always been pleasant diversion. Circuses make it a banner attraction.

It is the same at the Zoo, only greatly magnified because the collection of animal and bird life there totals 1,150 animals and birds consume on more than 1,150—considerably more than any one circus can boast. Commissary Department. Perhaps the thousands of people who have watched with interest mealtime at the Zoo, may believe that the matter of food is a haphazard thing; that the keepers know in a general way what an animal or a bird eats and feed him what they think is good for him. Perhaps these people will be interested to know that the commissary department at best is the cheapest. Not an ounce in the Zoo is as carefully regulated as in the best of hotels. Go into the basement of the Monkey House and get a kitchen equipped to prepare every mouthful of food that is dispensed, not only to the monkeys but to the lions and the monkeys.

Scientific Basis.

"The menu for every cage is arranged on a scientific basis. It is "Poor Fish!" says Mr. Crocodile as he opens his jaws to receive the tempting morsel which his keeper is about to cast to him cats. There is a huge refrigerator balanced so as to give each animal for the meat, fruits, vegetables and bird the necessary foods to keep members of the cat family, such as bread. At noon there will be a general helping of greens, not considered lions are carnivorous; that is, they eat a meal, and in the afternoon—4 o'clock every afternoon—always eat at regular hours and food charges here. Sudden changes of temperature mean a restricted diet. All animals are immediately segregated and given treatment. There's nothing hit or miss in a zoo."

With 1,150 animals and birds to feed, the question naturally arises, what do they eat? To answer the question one might follow the feeding program as it is carried out every day by the fourteen keepers.

The lions and tigers and various raw eggs, crackers and whole wheat for the monkeys, perhaps the only way to make progress is displayed by the he is immediately taken to the hospital and put under treatment. We

Next to the monkeys, perhaps the most interest is displayed by the lions are carnivorous; that is, they eat a meal, and in the afternoon—4 o'clock every afternoon—always eat at regular hours and food is never allowed to accumulate. The

Dr. Elliott Donates $500 To Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Dr. Samuel Elliott, local benefactor of Westminster College, has donated an additional $500 to the college during the past week. Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president, announces. This most recent gift to the college brings Dr. Elliott's donations to $12,500 in cash, books, and equipment within the last four years.

Big Battle Ship Ready For Service

To Carry Crew Of Forty Nine Officers And Five Hundred Fifty Three Men

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—The newest addition to Uncle Sam's battle fleet—the $10,500,000 U. S. Indianapolis, recently was commissioned formally at the Philadelphia Navy yard with impressive ceremonies.

Rear Admiral Lucius A. Bestwick, commanding of the fourth Naval district, turned the speedy 10,000-ton cruiser over to the command of Capt. John M. Smealie, who completed the ceremonies by setting the first watch.

The crew of 49 officers and 553 men were at attention during the ceremonies.

Many messages of congratulations were received by Captain Smealie. One from Secretary of the Navy Adams read: "I hope the Indianapolis will never be called upon to fire a hostile shot. Nevertheless, I hope she will always be ready."

The Indianapolis will leave soon for the West coast to join the Pacific fleet's cruiser force.

Officers from Pennsylvania attached to the new cruiser are: Lieut. Commander Peter K. Fischler, Philadelphia; Lieut. Commander Henry E. Thornhill; Merion; Lieut. Herbert G. Hopwood, Shamokin; Lieut. William J. Mullins, Athens; Ensign Geo. S. Wilson, Norristown; Ensign Jacob A. Lark, Shamokin; Ensign Joseph J. Loughlin, Lansdowne; Chief Boatswain Edward J. Heil, Philadelphia; chief machinist George J. Blessing, Philadelphia, and chief machinist James D. Goff, Philadelphia.

Shape Plans For Holiday Baskets

Railroad Women Will Provide Food, Clothing For Neediest Families

Preparations were commenced Tuesday by the Pennsylvania railroad's women's relief unit here, the Women's Aid, for the annual distribution of Christmas baskets of food and clothing to the neediest railroad families.

Officers of the Aid said the relief in the basket form would be greatly restricted this season, following out a request sent here from the Aid's system leaders. Donations will only be supplied to the worthiest families.

November brought lighter demands in the Aid's work, it was reported today. Some 30 Pennsylvania families will be given aid.

Westminster Floor Team Will Battle Against Old Grads

Titans To Open Basketball Season December 14 With Game At Sharon

Rice, Crowell, Lewis, Delahunt And Gamble Will Oppose Lawthers Team

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—When Coach John Lawther's Westminster College basketball team opens its pre-season campaign on December 14 at Sharon, it will be a game between Titans and Titan grads. The contest, with the strong Shontz and Myers team, will find such Titan alumni as Phil Rice, Duquesne; Bill Crowell, Sharon; Tudor Lewis, Farrell; Kenneth Delahunt, Sandy Lake, and Hugh Gamble, Sharon, opposing the Lawthermen.

The game will formally open the enlarged Buhl Club gymnasium floor in Sharon. Since it will be Titans versus Titans, many court fans of the district plan to attend.

Lawther has been drilling his men five nights a week since the close of football season. As yet, Mauno "Whitey" Silander, injured during football season, has not been able to don a uniform to compete for a guard post. As a result, John Wilhelm, Kittanning sophomore, Henry "Swede" Hunneke, Baldwin, L. I., soph., John Healy, Freeport, L. I., soph., and Jack Hilliard, Kittanning, have been used at guard.

Mickey Walker Kayoes DeKuh

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Weight means nothing to Mickey Walker, the New Jersey "bulldog."

Walker, weighing 175 pounds, knocked out Arthur DeKuh, 223 pound New York Italian, in the first round of a scheduled 10-round bout last night, after DeKuh had been on the floor twice for nine-counts.

Three of this year's frosh stars openly announced that they would follow Warner to Temple, and others were said to be considering the same move.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

George Ford, selected as All-Scholastic quarterback of the Greater Boston mythical football eleven is headed for Harvard. He played with Belmont high and in addition to being a nifty gridiron is a good hockey player.

From Aldesburgh, Suffolk, England comes the story that J. G. Sherlock has a habit of making a hole-in-one. He recently did the seventeenth hole of the Aldesburgh course, measuring 150 yards in one, for the eighth time.

There was some good punting this season with Stan Anderson of Stanford getting credit for the longest kick of the season. He is reported to have stood behind his own goal line in a game with California and punted exactly 80 yards down all the field. The most timely punt was made by Cliff Montgomery of Columbia. Columbia was leading Cornell by a touchdown. Columbia had its back to the line. After the kick had twice been blocked Montgomery went back into the game having been hurt previously and picked 60 yards down the field. It was the longest kick he ever made and saved the game for Columbia.

Warren Farrow, heavyweight who has been in the east, is in town. He arrived about a week ago. Since his departure Warren married. He fought probably 30 time since leaving here and is shouting a few at all local heavyweights.

A twelve year old record at Washington university was fractured this season as 119 points was made. This is the highest total registered by the college eleven since 1920. Washington U scored a big upset by defeating Missouri 14 to 6.

Stanford Gridders Will Follow Warner To New Temple Post

Almost Open Mutiny Among Football Men In Losing Of "Pop" Warner

(International News Service)

PALO ALTO, Cal., Dec. 7.—Mutiny among the Stanford freshman football players, the hopes of next year's varsity, broke out Tuesday over the resignation of Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, head coach, who will go to Temple university, Philadelphia, next year.

Three of this year's frosh stars openly announced that they would follow Warner to Temple, and others were said to be considering the same move.

Temple Would Welcome Young Coast Gridders

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—The "welcome" mat—but with provisos attached—waits on the doorstep of Temple University for embattled Freshmen of Leland Stanford University reported ready to follow Glenn ("Pop") Warner to his new job as head coach at Temple.

This was indicated Tuesday by attaches of the athletic department who seemed cheered by news of the threatened exodus from Leland Stanford.

It was pointed out, however, that the football prospects would have to abide by eligibility rules which call for one year's residence before any transfer students may participate in athletic activities at the university.

Scholastic requirements also would have to be met.

Wampum Reserves Take New Name

Wampum Merchants Reserves will be known here after as the St. Monicos A. C. it was announced by Manager Walter Gaffney today. The St. Monicos will travel to New Castle tonight to play the Sacred Hearts at the Y. M. C. A. floor. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The St. Monicos will again go to New Castle Saturday night to meet the fast St. Andrews Reserves at the St. Marys floor at 7:30 o'clock. Teams desiring to schedule the St. Monicos can arrange games by writing to Box 423 Wampum, Pa., Walter Gaffney manager of St. Monicos.

May Reinstate Babe Didrickson

(International News Service)

Floor Referees Will Take Less For Officiating

W. P. I. A. L. Basketball Committee Will Discuss New Set Of Rules

It will not cost each member school of the W. P. I. A. L. basketball league as much for officials this year as it did in 1932, according to action taken by the West Penn Basketball Officials in slashing their pay to $8.00 per game instead of $10.00. This action came as the result of a meeting of the officials to take up the money question after several complaints had been heard.

Many of the schools were set to hire their own officials at less expense, if the West Penn officials did not comply with a request to handle Cornell by a touchdown. Columbia made its back to the line. After the kick had twice been blocked Montgomery went back into the game having been hurt previously and picked 60 yards down the field. It was the longest kick he ever made and saved the game for Columbia.

May Abandon Rule

One of the major subjects to be taken up by the W. P. I. A. L. basketball committee at their next meeting is the matter of the new basketball rules which allows only ten-seconds to get rid of the ball.

Many of the coaches have entered complaints to the committee that the new rule will work a hardship with them, due to small floors.

Serious thought is to be given the matter of abandoning the Ten-second rule for the W. P. I. A. L. season.

Another matter that will come up by the W. P. I. A. L. fathers is the annual competition for the W. P. I. A. L. crown, which every year runs the basketball season well up until the first of April. Many protests have been heard that the playoffs for the state title prolongs the season and works a hardship on the floormen.

Rotary Basketball Team Is Organized

Rotary basketball team has been organized for the coming season. The team has been holding practice sessions at the Ben Franklin floor, which they will use for their home court.

The team is composed of the following:—Captain Ralph Kneram, Bob Allen, Victor Zuchowski, Bird Riley, Herb McClure, Don Wyman, and Dick Clark. The team will be coached by John Hite.

The Rotary team would like to book games with all fast Junior teams in the city and county. For games call 1930-J and ask for Homer Leslie or write to Homer Leslie at 1302 Huron avenue.

SEZ YOU Answers

1. False. It is more brilliant on Dec. 28 than on any other day in the year. 2. False. The Vatican has 1,100 rooms. 3. True. It weighs 432,000 pounds.

4. True. 5. True. 6. True. 7. False. An ostrich can kick hard enough to inflict injury to man.

8. True. There are 6,000 species of grass in the world. 9. False. John Behrent made the first piano forte in Philadelphia, in 1775. 10. True. A meteorite weighing 644 pounds fell in Kynahinya, Hungary, on June 9, 1860.

Here is the latest threat to Americanistic supremacy, shown as he arrived in New York on the S. S. De Grasse. He is Franta Nekolny, well-known Czechoslovakian welter-weight, heaven's newest gift to sports writers with a weakness for punning. It is pretty safe to predict that Franta will be known as the "Bouncing Check."

STOCKS

Stock Market

Remains Firm

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—With the bulls rallying behind the motors, the stock market today absorbed considerable profit-taking resulting from yesterday's late uprush, and consolidated its gains.

Outside markets provided further cheer. Bonds were strong, virgin on buoyancy. Wheat rose about a cent a bushel in short order. Sterling spurted more than 2 cents, helping commodity markets generally.

With the shorts in Auburn souring to cover, buying operations were resumed in General Motors and Chrysler which went to new highs on the move.

Case Threshing, Montgomery Ward and the other farm stocks followed wheat higher. Pivotal stocks like U. S. Steel, Allied Chemical and American Telephone made little further progress on the upside.

Rails worked forward, gains running to a point and more, on the increase in railroad traffic last week. Oils were supported by the reported accord reached with Rumania at the Paris parley.

Athletes Form
New Association

Interesting Program Is Presented At Meeting On Tuesday Evening

Plans for the furtherance of the Shenango Township Athletic Association were laid Tuesday night when a dinner was held by members of the organization in the Far East, followed by a program of speaking and entertainment.

The program was in charge of Kenneth Lutz, the president of the organization, with Rev. R. W. Fredericks, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church and other speakers presenting the cause. An old time orchestra consisting of mouth organ, banjo and guitar interested the crowd, with the Shenango High school orchestra providing special music during the evening.

The plans laid at present call for participation in various forms of athletics during the coming months. A basketball team will be in the field, and in the spring a baseball team will be organized and other outdoor sports given consideration.

AKRON COUPLE IS
WEDDED BY SQUIRE

Bernard Price and Miss Marvis Schultz of Akron, O., were united in marriage in the home of Justice of the Peace H. M. Reynolds in Union township Monday afternoon. The ring ceremony was performed, and the couple left immediately for their home in Akron.

Herbert Childs, larceny.

Herbert Childs, selling intoxicating liquor.

Mary Barrett, manufacturing liquor.

Frank Senkon, assault and battery.

John Galizia, Jr., fornication.

George Seiler, William Seiler and Edward Eppinger, breaking and entering.

Stella Jordan, felonious assault and battery, not a true bill on first count, true bills on second charging aggravated assault and battery.

John Denniston, fraudulent conversion, not a true bill and county of Lawrence pay costs.

True bills were returned by the grand jury today as follows:

Philip Marino, pandering.

Antonio Tomia, manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

John W. Cameron, obtaining goods by false pretense; three indictments.

Alvah C. McCoy, embezzlement.

Charley Hudson, malicious mischief.

Avarice is more opposed to economy than liberality is.

Rev. R. J. Fredericks and Kenneth Lutz have interested themselves in the new organization and plans include a fast baseball team for next summer, tennis, golf, volley ball, swimming and what have you.

The Kiwanis club, as a club, will join with other New Castle civic groups in the formal dedication of the new Willow Grove bridge over the Mahoning river on Monday, December 12. President C. M. Engle named Harry Gormley, Abe Gonick and William Hanna to make arrangements for the club's participation.

Other guests included Dr. H. E. Helling, Ellwood City, former lieutenant governor of Kiwanis; R. L. Knight, Ellwood City, coal company, superintendent, and H. E. Stanley, Beaver insurance man.
